

Reconnect: Build The Bridge

Use this guide to help your family learn about how God wants us to live in peace with others.

video!

Peace: Proving you care more about each other than winning an argument

Memory Verse

"So let us do all we can to live in peace. And let us work hard to build up one another." Romans 14:19, NIV

Bible Story

Abigail Intervenes
1 Samuel 25:1-35

Key Question

What are ways you can be a peacemaker?

Activity

Bridge the Gap

What You Need:

Several books; a deck of playing cards (or index cards); timer

What You Do:

Set the books in two stacks at the same height, several inches apart. Tell your child that their job is to "bridge the gap" between the stacks of books. (They can do this by fanning out the cards so that they form a bridge between the two stacks. Head to <https://bit.ly/3gmJ2si> for a visual of what this looks like.)

After your child successfully builds their first bridge, tell them they now have to do it in only 60 seconds! Reset the cards and books. Set the timer to 60 seconds and tell your child to bridge the gaps again!

Talk About the Bible Story

Who were the peacemakers in the story? What made them peacemakers?

Who were not peacemakers? Why don't you consider them peacemakers?

What about the servants who told Abigail about David's plan? Do you think they were trying to be part of the solution, or were they trying to cause unnecessary drama? What is the difference between helping and creating drama? (This is an opportunity to talk about the motivation behind their actions.)

Have you ever had to be a peacemaker in a tough situation? What did you do? How did it make you feel afterward?

Are there any situations right now where you could "bridge the gap" and be a peacemaker?

Parent: talk about a time when you had to be a peacemaker.

Prayer

Use this prayer as a guide, either after talking about the Bible story or sometime before bed tonight:

"God, You created us in Your image, and You have given each of us gifts and talents. Some of us are good at making others laugh... some of us love to sing... and some of us are great at listening and encouraging our friends. God, help us to use our gifts to be peacemakers. When we see that there's a problem, help us to find a way to be part of the solution. In Jesus' name we pray, Amen."
